CAR CLUB CRUISES IN FRIEND'S MEMORY

CHRISTINA LYONS, DAILY SUN STAFF WRITER

Classic cars line up at U-Stop on Saturday evening as a part of the Jay Husker Auto Club Show and Shine. The event was held in memory of Nick Huston, who had been involved with the club for many years.

Nick Huston had always been a car guy. On Saturday evening, the Jay Husker Auto Club held a memorial cruise in honor of the one-year anniversary of Huston's death.

Organizer Janet Jantzen said she and her husband, Ron, had known Nick and his wife, Vickie for 40 years.

"We were coming home from a car show and started talking about doing a cruise night in Nick's memory," she said. "Nick loved a cruise night and a hamburger flip. He touched many lives through his cars and faith in the Lord."

Daughter Kylie Essam said it was very appreciated.

"When I saw the photo of Dad and his truck with the event details, it hit me in a soft spot for sure," she said. "This is so appreciated. He was involved in the community for so long and to see people remember him. ... It's a testament of who he was. I'm glad we can do something like this."

Essam said her dad used to say, "It sure is a lot of work to have fun."

"We got the cars out and cleaned up. Now that I have the cars, it is a lot of work to have

Trump threatens Russia with tariffs

CHRIS MEGERIAN AND ILLIA NOVIKOV
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — President Donald Trump threatened Russia on Monday with steep tariffs and announced a rejuvenated pipeline for American weapons to reach Ukraine, hardening his stance toward Moscow after months of frustration about unsuccessful negotiations for ending the war.

The latest steps reflect an evolving approach from the Republican president, who promised to swiftly resolve the war started by Russian President Vladimir Putin when he invaded Ukraine three years ago.

Trump once focused his criticism on Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy, whom he described as unwilling to compromise, but more recently has expressed growing irritation toward Putin.

"My conversations with him are very pleasant, and then the missiles go off at night," Trump said. He complained that "it just keeps going on and on and on."

Trump said he would implement "severe tariffs" unless a peace deal is reached within 50 days. He provided few details on how they would be implemented, but he described them as secondary tariffs, meaning they would target Russia's trading partners to isolate Moscow in the global economy.

In addition, Trump said European allies would buy "billions and billions" of dollars of U.S. military equipment to be transferred to Ukraine, replenishing the besieged country's supplies of weapons. He made the announcement in the Oval Office alongside NATO Secretary-General Mark Rutte.

Included in the plan are Patriot air defense systems, a top priority for Ukraine as it fends off Russian drones and missiles.

Doubts were recently raised about Trump's commitment to supply Ukraine when the Pentagon paused shipments over concerns that U.S. stockpiles were running low.

Rutte said Germany, Finland, Canada, Norway, Sweden, the United Kingdom and Denmark would be among the buyers to supply Ukraine. He said "speed is of the essence here," and he suggested that some weapons would be rushed to Ukraine and later replaced
