

Find Out How Much Equity
You Have in Your Home
Make a Plan to Put It to Work

Call, Scan, or Visit
877-240-3751
addressUSA.com
Scan or call today for your FREE Equity Report.

BUCKS COUNTY
Courier Times

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8, 2026 | PHILLYBURBS.COM

PART OF THE USA TODAY NETWORK

Rice’s Market announces permanent closure

Rice’s Market in Solebury is closing at the end of its 2026 season. Its last day will be Dec. 29.
MICHELE C. HADDON / BUCKS COUNTY COURIER TIMES

The century-old Solebury flea market will close Dec. 29

Michele Haddon
Bucks County Courier Times
USA TODAY NETWORK

It’s the end of an era for a popular longstanding flea market in Bucks County. Rice’s Market, a longstanding indoor-outdoor market on Greenhill Road in Solebury, is permanently shutting down at the end of the season, according to an announcement posted to its Facebook page on Oct. 6. “After over a hundred years of being part of this community, we have made the difficult decision to close our doors at the end of the year,” the post read in part, adding that the market will continue with its normal schedule through its last day on Dec. 29. On Tuesday morning, office manager Kathy Bowland confirmed the closure. The announcement didn’t elaborate on the decision to close other than citing a changing economy. “The market and economy changed over the last few years but the golden years of before sunrise Tuesdays, Saturdays and the great chaos that was a Black Friday will never be forgotten.

Porkroll, egg and cheese sandwiches on a perfect Kaiser roll, the echo of “Pretzels... Fresh squeezed lemonade!” throughout the market and so many high school kids’ first job selling sodas out of coolers will be a core memory of the 90s and early 2000s,” it read. Reporter Michele Haddon covers local news, small business, food and drink, economic revitalization, art and culture for The Intelligencer and Bucks County Courier Times at Philly-Burbs.com. Please consider supporting local journalism with a subscription.

One year on, Trump’s Gaza plan stalled

Deal hasn’t halted Israeli fire or disarmed Hamas

REUTERS

JERUSALEM – President Donald Trump’s year-old plan to end the Gaza war has stalled, with Israel mounting near-daily attacks and occupying around two-thirds of the shattered enclave where Palestinians face dire conditions. The initial phase resulted in a ceasefire on Oct. 10, 2025, and secured the release of the last remaining hostages seized in Hamas’ 2023 attacks on Israel, along with freedom for hundreds of Palestinian prisoners and detainees held by Israel. But other goals, including disarming Hamas, securing Israeli withdrawal and rebuilding Gaza, appear far from reach.

What was in the plan?

The first phase of Trump’s 20-point plan included a suspension of all military operations, Israeli withdrawal from part of the enclave, hostage and prisoner releases and a surge in aid. Later phases foresaw Hamas disarming and new governance by a Palestinian body overseen by the Trump-led Board of Peace. Israel would gradually withdraw, handing territory to a temporary International Stabilization Force, or ISF. “Gaza will be redeveloped for the benefit of the people of Gaza, who have suffered more than enough,” the plan said.

Has the ceasefire held?

There has been no return to full-scale military operations, but Israeli strikes have continued. Gaza’s health ministry says at least 1,400 Palestinians have been killed since the October 2025 ceasefire, many of them women and children, although it does not disclose militant casualties. Israel says its strikes have targeted Hamas, accusing the group of trying to carry out attacks and rearm. Hamas denies this.

See GAZA, Page 2A

Teens allegedly attempted to bring guns, drugs to football game

Jo Ciavaglia
Bucks County Courier Times
USA TODAY NETWORK

Bristol Township police and school officials are crediting a district no-backpack policy with stopping teens from bringing marijuana and firearms into a home football game at Harry S Truman High School on Friday. The two unidentified teens, one a Truman student, are facing criminal charges in juvenile court, Bristol Township police confirmed. The incident happened Oct. 2 at the Truman Tigers game against Springfield High School. School employees turned the teens away when they attempted to enter the stadium with backpacks, police and district officials said in separate press releases. After the students were turned away at the gate, they left the backpacks on school property and reentered the event. School employees later found the backpacks containing marijuana, an air soft gun and a firearm inside and called police. The teen suspects were identified and taken into custody. No firearms were discharged and no threats were reported, Bristol Township Superintendent Michael Nitti said in a community message to parents on Saturday. Neither press release said where the teens obtained the firearm or why they brought it to the game. The incident remains under police investigation. “We are grateful for the vigilance of our administrative team in identifying and safely addressing this situation, as well as for the support and cooperation of the Bristol Township Police Department in helping to keep our school community safe,” Nitti said. Crime and Courts Reporter Jo Ciavaglia can be reached at jciavaglia@gannett.com

