Trump's $2B offshore wind buyoff threatens jobs, investment and energy supply

Christopher Niezrecki | UMass Lowell Ben Link | Johns Hopkins University
and Zoe Getman-Pickering | UMass Amherst THE CONVERSATION

The United States is in a bizarre situation in 2026: It's facing a looming energy shortage, yet the Trump administration is making deals to pay offshore wind developers nearly $2 billion in taxpayer money to walk away from energy projects.

These politically motivated moves are costing Americans far more than just the buyouts.

Communities have been laying the groundwork for offshore energy projects for years. Offshore wind development brings jobs and economic development that reshape regional economies, with the scale of public and private investment reaching into the hundreds of billions of dollars over years.

East Coast communities have built up ports to support the industry and launched job-training

Ex-sheriff faces lawsuit to recover money

Terry Benjamin II
Spartanburg Herald-Journal
USA TODAY NETWORK – SOUTH CAROLINA

Spartanburg County is seeking to recover taxpayer money from former Sheriff Chuck Wright and two associates, alleging that their misuse of funds led to significant financial losses and damaged public trust, according to federal court filings.

Spartanburg County is suing Wright, Sheriff's Chaplain Amos Durham and employee Lawson B. Watson. Spartanburg County is seeking partial restitution from the defendants to reimburse taxpayers for a portion of the losses incurred.

Measles case in Beaufort County reported

Shellie Murdaugh
Greenville News
USA TODAY NETWORK – SOUTH CAROLINA

The South Carolina Department of Public Health (DPH) has reported a confirmed case of measles in an adult Beaufort County resident, unrelated to an earlier case reported in Hampton County.

The department said the person's vaccination status is unconfirmed, and they did not have immunity from a previous measles infection. No other information was provided about the person's location or identity.

Earlier this year, the measles outbreak centered in Spartanburg County was the largest the United States has seen since the illness was declared
